DECISION

www.decisionmagazine.co.uk

The Wilsons Employment Index identifies the number of staff employed by leading companies in the south, and the percentage change over the year; the average salary paid by each company; a comparison with the previous year's figures; the remuneration received by the highest paid director at the company, and the percentage change over the year.

The information for the Wilsons Employment Index is according to the latest audited accounts filed or made available by Monday 30th June 2008.

To qualify for inclusion, a company has its functioning head office or registered office at which directors are based within Berkshire, Dorset, Hampshire, Isle of Wight, Surrey, Sussex, Wiltshire.

If a company has a number of sites in the UK, and its accounts reflect them all, then it is included only if its base within the above geographical location is considered to be its main location. Where a number of companies are part of a private group which is also based in the region, and the accounts are consolidated, then the group company is the one which is included in the Index.

No existing ranking or format exists as basis for the Index, which has been researched, calculated, and compiled solely by DECISION business magazine working from data provided by the companies or filed by them at Companies House.

A dash instead of a figure in the Index means that the company did not directly employ staff in the year in question.
